With concert venues closed due to COVID-19, concert violinists Etienne Gara and YuEun Kim are hitting the road in a 1971 VW bus.

Originally expecting to be touring internationally after playing summer concerts at festivals and at the Hollywood Bowl, they are now packing their instruments and bringing music safely to people through MusiKaravan.

Produced by Delirium Musicum, MusiKaravan is a project to showcase great music, delicious food and wine together with human bonding. This journey will take Etienne and YuEun to share their artistry with people working on farms and in wineries feeding us physically and emotionally.

At the heart of Delirium Musicum is the desire to bond with the audience, bring joy, inspire and impact people's emotions through music. MusiKaravan is designed to make music a traveling force, one that brings people together to share in something that is truly magical.
